INSIDE How John Dalli's decision to fall for Lawrence Gonzi's bait and take up the Brussels post came about after realising he didn't have a fighting chance to lead a revolt against Gonzi pages 5, 6, 7

Unwilling 'rebels' led Dalli to EU exit

Austin Gatt knew of BWSC bribery allegations

KARL STAGNO-NAVARRA

INVESTMENTS minister Austin Gatt knew since last October that Danish media had reported alleged cases of bribery committed by Burmeister & Wain Scandinavian Contractor (BWSC) who this summer was awarded the controversial contract for the €200 million Delimara power station extension.

Gatt – who repeatedly defended Enemalta's choice of awarding the contract to BWSC notwithstanding the series of alleged irregularities pointed out by the Opposition and other competing consortia for the project – was in fact confronted with copies of the damning media reports by PN backbenchers in a parliamentary group.

During that meeting that discussed the Opposition's motion on the controversial contract, one MP reportedly asked Gatt if he knew about the allegations and showed him a copy of the newspaper reports.
