'Unborn care order' betrays prejudice against women

MCWO president hits out at paternalistic, tyrannical attitude

The proposal to issue care orders to protect unborn children from their own mothers is a 'tyrant law' which betrays a 'paternalistic' attitude towards women, University lecturer and women rights' activist Dr Anna Borg tells MaltaToday.

Dr Borg, who is also president of the Malta Confederation of Women's Organisations, expressed her concern that such 'extreme' and 'intrusive' legislation would not only erode women's rights and limit her choices, but also expose both mother and foetus to additional health risks as pregnant women with drug problems may be reluctant to seek assistance under such circumstances.
