

MIMCOL CEO ON 'FORCED LEAVE'

KARL STAGNO-NAVARRA

MIMCOL'S chief executive officer Mario Mizzi has been asked not to report for work and to stay home on 'forced leave', pending a police investigation into allegations of corruption in the privatisation process for Malta Superyachts.

Mizzi, who was last week called in for interrogation by Assistant Commissioner Michael Cassar, was reportedly held for questioning for 48 hours, during which he also faced Police Commissioner John Rizzo.
